World Travellin'

*A Musical Storytelling
Show For The Whole Family*

World Travellin' is an original musical play which draws its material from different stories from around the world. The book was written by Paula Devitt and Thom Currie, with music by Steve Bloom and lyrics by Thom Currie and Steve Bloom.

The play involves two performers, who have each just finished a trip halfway around the world. They begin to exchange the stories that people have told them on their travels.

Through extensive use of song, puppetry, dance and mime, the two travellers weave four tales from Wales, Jamaica, Russia and England. The play ends up with the two promising to meet again, and share all the stories that they pick up on their future travels. A wonderful and funky celebration of folk-tales from around the world, World Travellin' will delight family audiences, with lots of participation, music, comedy and puppetry.

World Travellin' is one of Really Little Theatre's most popular shows. In addition to performances across Canada, the show has toured all over Europe, with stops including Paris, Brussels, Frankfurt, Luxembourg, Weisbaden, and Amsterdam.

"A good theatre production such as this is appreciated by all ages - an excellent performance, the children were mesmerized."
